

ibps_clerk_2025_prelims_shift_4_759203f6

IBPS Clerk Prelims 2025 Shift_4

70 questions

6. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $18^3 + 7^2 ? 9^2 = ?$

- (a) 5800
 - (b) 5805
 - (c) 5810
 - (d) 5820
 - (e) 5815 Ans.(a)
-

7. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $36 \div 1.44 + 16 \div 2.56 + 20 = ?$

- (a) 51.25
 - (b) 101.25
 - (c) 122.25
 - (d) 102.5
 - (e) 113.25 Ans.(a)
-

8. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $24 \times 18 ? 56 + ? = 95\% \text{ of } 400$

- (a) 2
 - (b) 4
 - (c) 6
 - (d) 8
 - (e) 10 Ans.(b)
-

9. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $42\% \text{ of } 800 ? ? = 18\% \text{ of } 600$

- (a) 218
 - (b) 226
 - (c) 228
 - (d) 230
 - (e) 232 Ans.(c)
-

10. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $15\% \text{ of } 640 + 35\% \text{ of } 400 + 20\% \text{ of } 220 = ?$

- (a) 270
 - (b) 276
 - (c) 280
 - (d) 284
 - (e) 288 Ans.(c)
-

11. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $6^2 + 8^2 + 12^2 = ?$

- (a) 214
 - (b) 415
 - (c) 316
 - (d) 217
 - (e) 244 Ans.(e)
-

12. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $18 \times 14 + 32 ? ? = 35\% \text{ of } 400$

- (a) 134
 - (b) 144
 - (c) 154
 - (d) 164
 - (e) 174 Ans.(b)
-

13. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $40\% \text{ of } 450 + 24\% \text{ of } 500 ? 20\% \text{ of } 350 = ?$ (a) 220

- (b) 230
 - (c) 240
 - (d) 250
 - (e) 260 Ans.(b)
-

14. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $15^2 \times 96 \div 24 = 225 \times ?^2$

- (a) 2
 - (b) 3
 - (c) 4
 - (d) 5
 - (e) 6 Ans.(a)
-

15. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $2 + 6 \frac{3}{5} \div 6 + 3 \frac{3}{5} = ?$

- (a) $12 \frac{1}{3}$
 - (b) $12 \frac{2}{3}$
 - (c) $12 \frac{1}{2}$
 - (d) $12 \frac{5}{6}$
 - (e) $12 \frac{1}{6}$ Ans.(a)
-

16. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: 4 of 9 of 32 of 4608 = ?

- (a) 2592
 - (b) 2646
 - (c) 2700
 - (d) 2764
 - (e) 2808 Ans.(a)
-

17. What will come in the place of question (?) mark in following the question: $(1.69)^? \div (2197 \div 1000)^3 \times (0.13 \times 10)^3 = ?$

- (a) 2.56
 - (b) 3.24
 - (c) 1.44
 - (d) 1.69
 - (e) 4 Ans.(d)
-

26. Rohit invest twice the sum invested by Shikhar and withdraws half of sum after 8 months and again withdraws half of the remaining sum after next 8 months. Find Ratio of profit share of Rohit and Shikhar after 2 year?

- (a) 3 : 4
 - (b) 7 : 6
 - (c) 4 : 3
 - (d) 6 : 7
 - (e) None of these Ans.(b)
-

27. In a school total 360 students passed the exam, while 60% of total boys passed the exam and 40% of total girls passed the exam. If $66 \frac{2}{3}\%$ of total passed boys is 160, then find total students in the school?

- (a) 960
 - (b) 720
 - (c) 800
 - (d) 600
 - (e) 700 Ans.(e)
-

28. The average weight of 24 students in a class is 35 kg. If two new students are added to the class and then the average weight of the class is increased by 2 kg, then find the weight of two new students?

- (a) 81 kg
 - (b) 108 kg
 - (c) 122 kg
 - (d) 96 kg
 - (e) None of these Ans.(c)
-

29. 10 years ago, the age of A is 150% more than B. 8 years hence, the age of A will be 75% more than that of B. If the average of present age of A, B and C is 33 years, then find the difference between age of A and C (in years)?

- (a) 37
- (b) 33
- (c) 31
- (d) 39
- (e) 35 Ans.(d)

30. X can complete a work in 15 days and Y can do it in 12 days. X and Z together can complete the entire work in 12 days. First, X and Y work together for 5 days. Then X leaves and Z joins Y. In how many days the total work completed?

- (a) 20 days
- (b) 7.5 days
- (c) 12 days
- (d) 18 days
- (e) 21 days Ans.(b)

31. An amount doubles in 5 years at simple interest. In what time will it become 12 times of itself at the same rate?

- (a) 30
- (b) 50
- (c) 55
- (d) 36
- (e) None of these Ans.(c)

32. There are two jars P and Q containing a mixture of milk and water. Jar P has 20 liters of mixture which has 70% milk. Jar Q has 30 liters of mixture which has milk and water in 3:2 ratio. The content of both the jars are mixed in jar Z. What is the % of milk in the new mixture?

- (a) 22%
- (b) 38%
- (c) 42%
- (d) 75%
- (e) 64% Ans.(e)

33. Train A having length 200 meters crosses train B running in same direction in 100 seconds. If the difference between the speeds of both the trains is 6 m/s and train B crosses a 480 meters long platform in 40 seconds, then find the speed of train A (in meters/second)?

- (a) 28
- (b) 24
- (c) 20
- (d) 18
- (e) 30 Ans.(a)

34. The perimeter of semicircle is 36 cm and the radius of the semicircle is equal to the breath of a rectangle. If area of rectangle is 147 cm^2 , then find the length of rectangle?

- (a) 10.5 cm
- (b) 28 cm
- (c) 14 cm
- (d) 21 cm
- (e) 35 cm Ans.(d)

35. a, b, c, d and e are 5 consecutive even numbers. If the sum of ?a? and ?d? is 162, then what is the sum of all the numbers?

- (a) 400
- (b) 380
- (c) 420
- (d) 410
- (e) None of these Ans.(d)

36. Choose the most appropriate word to fill in the blank given in the passage. Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment. _____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver – that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

(a) However
 (b) Therefore
 (c) Meanwhile
 (d) Indeed
 (e) Nevertheless Ans.(d)

37. What does the phrase "feel the pinch" most nearly mean as used in the passage? Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment. _____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver – that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

(a) To suffer physical discomfort due to harsh weather
 (b) To struggle with financial hardship and difficulty
 (c) To feel overwhelmed by sudden relationship changes
 (d) To experience exhaustion from excessive manual work
 (e) To feel disappointed after failing a personal goal Ans.(b)

38. Choose the word most similar in meaning to "form" as used in the passage. Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment. _____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver ? that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

- (a) shape
- (b) outline
- (c) design
- (d) arrange
- (e) establish Ans.(e)

39. What does the passage suggest about the Minis and their forest? Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment. _____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver ? that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

- (a) They saw the forest purely as a commercial resource
- (b) They had recently migrated from an urban region
- (c) They drew sustenance and identity from the land
- (d) They depended mainly on government food supplies
- (e) They invited planners to develop their forested hills Ans.(c)

40. What can be inferred about Pavitra's character from the passage? Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment.

_____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver. That when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

(a) Pavitra had formally studied agroforestry at an institution
(b) Pavitra persisted quietly despite initial skepticism from elders

(c) Pavitra had previously failed at several community projects

(d) Pavitra sought government funding before starting the work

(e) Pavitra paused the initiative temporarily during the lockdown Ans.(b)

41. What role did the lockdown play in the Minis' agroforestry success? Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment.

_____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver. That when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

(a) It destroyed existing infrastructure forcing them to restart
(b) Development planners included the Minis in policy frameworks

(c) Government relief provided essential agricultural equipment

(d) Outside investors funded the initiative recognising its potential

(e) It brought back workers whose labour expanded harvesting Ans.(e)

42. Consider the following statements and identify which is/are correct: (I) Migrant workers returned with savings they invested in Pavitra's initiative. (II) The initiative was on communal land integrating food crops with tree cultivation. (III) The harvest ensured food security and surplus was sold in nearby markets. Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment.

_____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver ? that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

- (a) Only (I)
- (b) Both (I) and (III)
- (c) Only (II)
- (d) Both (II) and (III)
- (e) All (I), (II) and (III) Ans.(d)

43. Consider the following statements and identify which is/are incorrect: (I) The Minis drew sustenance and identity from forests outsiders rarely visited. (II) Pavitra was described as loud and outspoken inspiring immediate community confidence. (III) Before lockdown only a handful of households participated in the initiative. Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment. _____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver ? that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

- (a) Only (I)
- (b) Both (I) and (III)
- (c) Only (II)
- (d) Both (II) and (III)
- (e) All (I), (II) and (III) Ans.(c)

44. . What central lesson does the passage convey through the story of the Minis? Read the following passage and answer the given questions. When the rest of the world was shutting down, a small tribal community tucked into the forested hills of central India was quietly doing the opposite. The group, known locally as the Minis, had long maintained an intimate relationship with the land around them, drawing sustenance and identity from forests that outsiders rarely visited and development planners rarely considered. The seeds of what would become a remarkable community effort were planted in 2019, when Pavitra, a young tribal resident with a quiet but determined vision, began to form the foundation of an agroforestry initiative on communal land. Pavitra believed that integrating food crops with tree cultivation could generate stable, year-round income for families who had historically depended on uncertain forest produce and seasonal labour in distant cities. Progress was slow initially, with only a handful of households willing to participate in what many elders viewed with cautious skepticism. Then the lockdown arrived. Migrant workers who had left the village years earlier to form part of the urban labour force returned home suddenly and without income. For weeks, these families began to feel the pinch of unemployment, depleted savings, and an uncertain future. Rather than remaining idle, many turned to Pavitra's agroforestry plots, lending their labour and, gradually, their commitment. _____, what followed surprised even the most optimistic among them. With a larger collective workforce tending the land, harvesting expanded significantly. The Minis conducted a substantial harvest during the lockdown period that not only ensured food security for participating households but generated surplus produce sold to nearby markets. Families that had previously earned single incomes reported that their household earnings had effectively doubled within one growing season. The Minis had discovered something that no government scheme had managed to deliver. _____ that when crisis drives a community back to its roots, the land, tended with collective care, rarely disappoints.

- (a) Government schemes best deliver sustainable agricultural development
- (b) Tribal communities should permanently avoid seeking urban work
- (c) Agroforestry is universally superior to all other farming methods
- (d) Returning urban workers always transform rural agricultural output
- (e) Crisis can unite communities enabling collective effort to succeed Ans.(e)

45. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (A)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) accumulate
- (b) dissolve
- (c) fluctuate
- (d) diminish
- (e) scatter Ans.(a)

46. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (B)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) surrender
- (b) preserve
- (c) postpone
- (d) obtain
- (e) surrender Ans.(d)

47. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (C)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) parallel
- (b) identical
- (c) adjacent
- (d) immune
- (e) confined Ans.(e)

48. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (D)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) redeem
- (b) redeemed
- (c) redeeming

- (d) redeems
 - (e) redemption Ans.(a)
-

49. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (E)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) surrender
 - (b) undergo
 - (c) deliver
 - (d) preserve Ans.(d)
-

50. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (F)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) restrain
 - (b) postpone
 - (c) maximize
 - (d) discard
 - (e) complicate Ans.(c)
-

51. Which of the following words will fit in the given blank (G)? In the following passage there are blanks, each of which has been denoted by letters. For each blank, five options are given. Choose the most appropriate word from the options that fits the blank appropriately. Many airlines have introduced loyalty programmes that reward frequent travellers with credit points for every journey they complete. These points gradually _____ (A) in a member's account and can later be redeemed for a variety of travel-related benefits. Depending on the airline's policy, passengers may use the accumulated points to _____ (B) discounted flight tickets, cabin upgrades, hotel reservations, or even shopping vouchers. However, travellers should carefully review the programme guidelines because certain rewards remain _____ (C) to specific routes, travel periods, or membership categories. In addition, most airlines require members _____ (D) their points before a specified expiry date, failing which the unused balance may lapse automatically. Experts also recommend comparing redemption values before making a booking, as some options _____ (E) greater value than others. By planning purchases wisely and monitoring promotional offers, passengers can _____ (F) the overall benefit of their accumulated credit points. Consequently, these programmes have become an increasingly popular _____ (G) for encouraging customer loyalty in the aviation industry.

- (a) mechanism
 - (b) interval
 - (c) obstacle
 - (d) territory
 - (e) occurrence Ans.(a)
-

52. The magician performed a sleight of hand so swiftly that the entire audience was left completely baffled. In the following sentence, four words have been highlighted which may be misspelt or inappropriate in their usage. Mark the erroneous word as the answer and if all the words are correct in their spellings and usage, then choose ?All are correct? as the answer.

- (a) magician
 - (b) sleight
 - (c) swiftly
 - (d) audience
 - (e) All are correct Ans.(b)
-

53. The retired banker had served the institution for over thirty ears and was honoured with a gold medal at the farewell ceremony. In the following sentence, four words have been highlighted which may be misspelt or inappropriate in their usage. Mark the erroneous word as the answer and if all the words are correct in their spellings and usage, then choose ?All are correct? as the answer.

- (a) retired
 - (b) served
 - (c) ears
 - (d) honoured
 - (e) All are correct Ans.(c)
-

54. The horrifying incident turned into a nightmar for the witnesses who had gathered near the accident spot. In the following sentence, four words have been highlighted which may be misspelt or inappropriate in their usage. Mark the erroneous word as the answer and if all the words are correct in their spellings and usage, then choose ?All are correct? as the answer.

- (a) horrifying
 - (b) nightmar
 - (c) witnesses
 - (d) gathered
 - (e) All are correct Ans.(b)
-

55. The veteran officer handled the delicate situation with remarkable composure and restored order without any confrontation. In the following sentence, four words have been highlighted which may be misspelt or inappropriate in their usage. Mark the erroneous word as the answer and if all the words are correct in their spellings and usage, then choose ?All are correct? as the answer.

- (a) veteran
 - (b) handled
 - (c) delicate
 - (d) composure
 - (e) All are correct Ans.(e)
-

56. The prisoner made a desperate attempt to ecsape from the heavily guarded detention centre late at night. In the following sentence, four words have been highlighted which may be misspelt or inappropriate in their usage. Mark the erroneous word as the answer and if all the words are correct in their spellings and usage, then choose ?All are correct? as the answer.

- (a) prisoner
 - (b) desperate
 - (c) ecsape
 - (d) heavily
 - (e) All are correct Ans.(c)
-

57. Identify the sentence that is grammatically correct.

- (a) The typhoon has caused widespread destruction since the last four consecutive days.
 - (b) Neither the warden nor the security staff were notified of the inmate's transfer.
 - (c) The seized cargo vessel was towed to the nearest port for detailed inspection.
 - (d) The coalition partners has failed to reach consensus on the revised electoral map.
 - (e) All are incorrect Ans.(c)
-

58. Identify the sentence that is grammatically correct.

- (a) The marathon runner don't follow a fixed hydration schedule during long races.
 - (b) The rebel factions has agreed to lay down arms under the mediated peace framework.
 - (c) The opposition leader and the deputy spokesperson is addressing the press shortly.
 - (d) The parliament passed the landmark data protection bill after three rounds of debate.
 - (e) All are incorrect Ans.(d)
-

59. Identify the sentence that is grammatically correct.

- (a) The sniper don't operate without direct authorisation from the field commander.
 - (b) Each of the accused persons have appeared before the special tribunal individually.
 - (c) The visiting dignitary and the protocol officer was escorted to the state guesthouse.
 - (d) The cyclone weakened into a deep depression before making landfall near the delta.
 - (e) All are incorrect Ans.(d)
-

60. Identify the sentence that is grammatically correct.

- (a) She seen the accused leaving the premises just minutes before the incident occurred.
 - (b) The border skirmish have intensified despite repeated calls for mutual restraint.
 - (c) Each of the nominated candidates have filed their affidavit with the election body.
 - (d) The submarine completed its stealth mission and returned to the naval base undetected.
 - (e) All are incorrect Ans.(d)
-

61. Identify the sentence that is grammatically correct.

- (a) The glacier don't retreat at a uniform rate across all its exposed surface zones.
 - (b) Every one of the hostages were safely released before midnight by the armed group.
 - (c) The missile defence system and the radar unit was tested during the joint exercise.
 - (d) The journalist filed her report from the conflict zone before the curfew began.
 - (e) All are incorrect Ans.(d)
-

62. (A) lowering air pollution (B) the revised regulation (C) played a crucial role in (D) levels across the city In the following question, a sentence is divided into few parts. Rearrange these parts and identify the correct sequence making the sentence grammatically and contextually correct.

- (a) BCAD
 - (b) CABD
 - (c) BDAC
 - (d) CDBA
 - (e) No rearrangement required Ans.(a)
-

63. (A) the fundamental fairness of our economic system (B) income inequality is not just about (C) the poor getting poorer, it is about (D) the rich getting richer and In the following question, a sentence is divided into few parts. Rearrange these parts and identify the correct sequence making the sentence grammatically and contextually correct.

- (a) DACB
 - (b) BDCA
 - (c) CBDA
 - (d) DABC
 - (e) No rearrangement required Ans.(b)
-

64. (A) prepare students for (B) future challenges (C) creative problem-solving to (D) educational institutions should (E) encourage critical thinking and In the question given below, some sentences/phrases are given which have to be arranged in a proper sequence to form a correct sentence grammatically and contextually. Select the option which best defines the proper sequence and arranges the sentence in an appropriate way.

- (a) DEABC

- (b) EDABC
 - (c) No rearrangement required
 - (d) DECAB
 - (e) CEDAB Ans.(d)
-

65. (A) immigration is not just a political issue, (B) it is a human issue that requires (C) empathy and understanding for those seeking (D) a better life for themselves and their families In the following question, a sentence is divided into few parts. Rearrange these parts and identify the correct sequence making the sentence grammatically and contextually correct.

- (a) CDAB
 - (b) ACBD
 - (c) CBDA
 - (d) ABDC
 - (e) No rearrangement required Ans.(e)
-

66. If we add 2 to all the even digits of the number '5526734473' and then arrange them in ascending order from left to right, then what will be the 5th digit from left end after rearrangement?

- (a) 4
 - (b) 5
 - (c) 6
 - (d) 7
 - (e) None of the above Ans.(b)
-

72. How many such consonants are there in the above arrangement each of which is immediately preceded by a digit and immediately followed by a symbol? Study the following alphanumeric symbol series carefully and answer the given questions: 3 A C G 5 * K 2 Z V E 8 & S # X 7 % R Y @ N 9 Q +

- (a) None
 - (b) One
 - (c) Two
 - (d) Three
 - (e) More than three Ans.(b)
-

73. Which of the following element is exactly midway between the fifth element from the left end and the seventh element from the right end of the arrangement? Study the following alphanumeric symbol series carefully and answer the given questions: 3 A C G 5 * K 2 Z V E 8 & S # X 7 % R Y @ N 9 Q +

- (a) 8
 - (b) S
 - (c) X
 - (d) V
 - (e) None of these Ans.(a)
-

74. Which of the following element will be 4th to the left of the 10th letter from the left end after the rearrangement? Study the following alphanumeric symbol series carefully and answer the given questions: 3 A C G 5 * K 2 Z V E 8 & S # X 7 % R Y @ N 9 Q +

- (a) 8
 - (b) R
 - (c) Y
 - (d) *
 - (e) # Ans.(e)
-

75. How many such digits are there in the above arrangement, each of which is immediately followed by a consonant but not immediately preceded by a symbol? Study the following alphanumeric symbol series carefully and answer the given questions: 3 A C G 5 * K 2 Z V E 8 & S # X 7 % R Y @ N 9 Q +

- (a) None
- (b) One
- (c) Two
- (d) Three

(e) None of these Ans.(c)

76. What is the position of 'N' with respect to the ninth element from the right end of the series? Study the following alphanumeric symbol series carefully and answer the given questions: 3 A C G 5 * K 2 Z V E 8 & S # X 7 % R Y @ N 9 Q +

- (a) Immediately to the left
 - (b) Fifth to the right
 - (c) Third to the left
 - (d) Fourth to the right
 - (e) None of these Ans.(b)
-

77. How many pairs of digits are there in the number 73914265? each of which have as many digits between them as in the number series (both in the forward and backward directions)?

- (a) Four
 - (b) Two
 - (c) Three
 - (d) Five
 - (e) More than five Ans.(e)
-

86. Statements: $E > A$? $C < D = F > J$? H Conclusion I: $A > F$ II: $A ? D$ In these questions, relationship between different elements is shown in the statements. The statements are followed by two conclusions. Give answer.

- (a) If only conclusion I is true
 - (b) If only conclusion II is true
 - (c) If either conclusion I or II is true
 - (d) If neither conclusion I nor II is true
 - (e) If both conclusion I and II is true Ans.(c)
-

87. In these questions, relationship between different elements is show in the statements. The statements are followed by conclusions. Study the conclusions based on the given statements and select the appropriate answer:

- (a) If only conclusion I is true.
 - (b) If only conclusion II is true.
 - (c) If either conclusion I or II is true.
 - (d) If neither conclusion I nor II is true.
 - (e) If both conclusions I and II are true. Ans.(a)
-

88. Statements: $D > V$? $S ? X$; $K ? B = V$? A Conclusions: I. $S ? A$ II. $D > K$ In each of the following questions assuming the given statements to be true, find which of the two conclusions I and II given below is/are definitely true and give your answer accordingly.

- (a) If only conclusion I is true.
 - (b) If only conclusion II is true.
 - (c) If either conclusion I or II is true.
 - (d) If neither conclusion I nor II is true.
 - (e) If both conclusions I and II are true. Ans.(a)
-

89. Statements: $P ? R > U = S < N$? $O > T$ Conclusion: I: $U ? N$ II: $S < O$ In each of the following questions assuming the given statements to be true, find which of the two conclusions I and II given below is/are definitely true and give your answer accordingly.

- (a) If either conclusion I or II is true
 - (b) If neither conclusion I nor II is true
 - (c) If only conclusion I is true
 - (d) If both conclusions I and II are true
 - (e) If only conclusion II is true Ans.(e)
-

90. If a meaningful word is formed by using the first, eighth, ninth, and tenth letters (from the left end) of the word "COMPLEXITY", then which of the following will be the second letter from the left end of the meaningful word thus formed? If more than one such meaningful word is formed, mark Y as your answer. If no meaningful word is formed, mark Z as your answer.

- (a) C
 - (b) Y
 - (c) I
 - (d) Z
 - (e) T Ans.(c)
-

95. Find the odd one out.

- (a) SPN
 - (b) KHG
 - (c) YVT
 - (d) TQO
 - (e) GDB Ans.(b)
-

96. Who is sitting exactly opposite to Q? Study the information carefully and answer the questions given below. Eight persons P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, and W are sitting in a circle facing the centre but not necessarily in the same order. P sits second to the right of Q. S is an immediate neighbour of Q. T is third to the right of S. V is second to the right of T. W is not an immediate neighbour of T. R does not face S.

- (a) P
 - (b) S
 - (c) T
 - (d) V
 - (e) U Ans.(c)
-

97. Who are the immediate neighbours of U? Study the information carefully and answer the questions given below. Eight persons P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, and W are sitting in a circle facing the centre but not necessarily in the same order. P sits second to the right of Q. S is an immediate neighbour of Q. T is third to the right of S. V is second to the right of T. W is not an immediate neighbour of T. R does not face S.

- (a) S and T
 - (b) T and V
 - (c) Q and W
 - (d) S and R
 - (e) T and W Ans.(b)
-

98. How many persons are seated between T and P when counted clockwise from P? Study the information carefully and answer the questions given below. Eight persons P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, and W are sitting in a circle facing the centre but not necessarily in the same order. P sits second to the right of Q. S is an immediate neighbour of Q. T is third to the right of S. V is second to the right of T. W is not an immediate neighbour of T. R does not face S.

- (a) One
 - (b) Two
 - (c) Three
 - (d) Four
 - (e) Five Ans.(e)
-

99. Which of the following statements is true? Study the information carefully and answer the questions given below. Eight persons P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, and W are sitting in a circle facing the centre but not necessarily in the same order. P sits second to the right of Q. S is an immediate neighbour of Q. T is third to the right of S. V is second to the right of T. W is not an immediate neighbour of T. R does not face S.

- (a) W is an immediate neighbour of T
 - (b) P is second to the right of R
 - (c) U is second to the left of P
 - (d) V is third to the right of R
 - (e) Q is third to the left of S Ans.(d)
-

100. Who sits third to the right of the person who sits immediate right of P? Study the information carefully and answer the questions given below. Eight persons P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, and W are sitting in a circle facing the centre but not necessarily in the same order. P sits second to the right of Q. S is an immediate neighbour of Q. T is third to the right of S. V is second to the right of T. W is not an immediate neighbour of T. R does not face S.

- (a) R
 - (b) T
 - (c) V
 - (d) W
 - (e) S Ans.(c)
-