Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow. Some words have been highlighted to aid in answering the questions. Single-use plastics are goods that are made primarily from fossil fuel-based chemicals (petrochemicals) and are meant to be disposed of right after use—often, in mere minutes. Many companies have touted their products by packaging them in attractive single use plastic. Single-use plastics are most commonly used for packaging and service ware, such as bottles, wrappers and bags. These single-use plastics impact environment adversely. Instead of investing in quality goods that will last, we often _____ convenience over durability and consideration of long-term impacts. Our reliance on these plastics means we are accumulating waste at a staggering rate. We produce 300 million tons of plastic each year worldwide. That's nearly equivalent to the weight of the entire human population. Plastics are actually valuable waste materials as they contain carbon and hydrogen and have a similar energy content to fuels such as diesel. However, rather than focusing solely on the potential to generate fuel from this waste plastic, Scientists have unveiled a technology to recover other higher-value materials. This is where cold plasma pyrolysis came in. Pyrolysis is a method of thermal decomposition in an environment with limited oxygen at temperatures between 400-650°C. The process can be used to generate electricity and fuels, but when cold plasma is added to the equation it can convert waste plastics into hydrogen, methane and ethylene. Hydrogen and methane can be used as clean fuels as they produce minimal amounts of soot and carbon dioxide, while ethylene is the building block of most plastics. Instead of wasting plastics, cold plasma pyrolysis can recover valuable materials, which can be used to produce other plastic products in turn. While it can take hundreds of years for certain plastics to completely degrade, cold plasma pyrolysis offers a quick alternative.

71. What is/are the characteristic(s) of single use plastic?

- (a) This kind of plastic is flexible and can be molded in any shape
- (b) It is mainly made up of fossil fuel-based chemicals
- (c) This kind of plastic isn't meant to be reused or recycled
- (d) It takes only a few days to get decomposed
- (e) Only

72. As per the passage, what is the effect of our reliance on single use plastic?

- (a) Plastic pollution is upsetting earth's food chain by jeopardizing marine lives
- (b) Soil has been contaminated the most by plastic waste and its fertility is declining
- (c) Plastic equals to the weight of the entire human race is being produced annually.
- (d) Many millions of dollars are wasted each year to decompose single-use plastic.
- (e) None of these

73. Why is plastic considered as a valuable waste material in the passage?

- (a) As plastic waste is used to make helium which is used in fuel tanks
- (b) As recycling plastic waste is the most convenient and low-cost process among all the other nondegradable things.
- (c) Because like any other energy content to fuels, it has carbon and hydrogen.
- (d) All of these
- (e) None of these

74. For which specific purpose cold plasma is used in pyrolysis method?

- (a) For tin coating on plastic utensils to avoid corrosion
- (b) To produce electricity and fuels from plastic waste
- (c) To turn plastic waste into hydrogen, methane and ethylene
- (d) For making plastic a more flexible and synthetic material
- (e) Both

75. How cold plasma pyrolysis helps in addressing the plastic waste challenges?

- (a) Using the cold plasma pyrolysis method, plastic is converted to silicon and rubber.
 - (b) With the cold plasma pyrolysis method, plastic is recycled into the new plastic product.
 - (c) Abundant plastic waste is decomposed instantly with cold plasma pyrolysis
 - (d) It is the technology that shreds plastic waste which is otherwise dumped in landfills
